[July 31, 2010]

"For the sake of government formation we will not heed to any demands that may lead to the disintegration of our country", said Pushpa Kamal Dahal while talking to journalists, July 30, 2010.

Mr. Dahal made these remarks upon meeting the chief of Nepal Majdoor Kisan Party (Peasants' Workers Party) Mr. Narayan Man Bijukche alias 'Rohit'.

"With due respect to demands being raised by Madhesis, Janajatis, Dalits, Muslims, and other marginalized groups, I would like to clarify that no demands shall be met with that challenges sovereignty and territorial integrity of our country", Dahal continued.

"So far we have made no commitments to the demands being raised by Unified Madhesi Front", he said and added, "We will send them our formal response by Saturday."

Dahal accompanied by vice chairman Narayan Kaji Shrestha had visited the personal residence of Mr. Bijukche urging the veteran communist leader to support his candidacy in the third round of prime ministerial election set for Monday August 2, 2010.

Sources close to the Maoists' quarters have it that during the meeting with Mr. Bijukche, Dahal said that since his party was the largest party in the Constituent Assembly it must be allowed to lead the country.

Similarly, Mr. Bijukche told journalists that he felt it necessary that if parties fail third of consecutive Nepal PM election event, the President should be empowered to form the government.

He also said that the President should ask one of the parties to form the government and demonstrate their majority in the parliament within three months period.

Why Narayan man Bijikchhe of late has been pinning high hopes upon the Nepal President is somewhat mysterious?
