In the November 1980 elections, the Communist Party USA published its election platform titled “On the Way to Victory.” The platform, which was published in four parts, covered a wide range of issues, including economic justice, social justice, and international solidarity. The platform called for the abolition of private property, the end of capitalist exploitation, and the establishment of a socialist economy. It also called for the end of the Cold War and the nuclear arms race, and for the establishment of a world free of imperialist domination. The platform also called for the protection of civil liberties and the advancement of women’s rights. The platform was endorsed by a majority of Communist Party USA members in 1980, and it played a role in the party’s efforts to build a mass movement for socialism.
