

Denunciation of the Demonic US Imperialist Aggression on the Sovereign Nation of Venezuela

by a supporter of Frente Patriotico Manuel Rodriguez Autonomo in Chile

January 2026

How many nations will the Yanqui Power invade before it meets with justice? How much chaos and horror will the Great Beast cause until the eyes of the world open, see it for what it truly is, and resist it? In Guatemala they started a brutal civil war to protect the corporate interests of the United Fruit Company, in Chile they helped overthrow Allende and installed the terribly cruel dictator Pinochet, everywhere they reach in with their tentacles corrupting the nations to fuel their insatiable greed for power and profit. Their hearts are filled with hatred, their conscience non-existent, they even make an idol of their selfishness and call it Neo-Liberalism, then destroy those who even speak against it.

In clarity we can say that Maduro was not the best president, he was not a great man like Chavez, and there genuinely was corruption in that country, however that is what happens with revolutionary governments – not due to flaws in their economics or ideas but rather because that is what the Capitalists do, they destabilize, they defame, they confuse, and then they use the problems they themselves created as excuses to go to war.

Are people not aware that these “sanctions” the capitalist powers are so fond of have nothing at all to do with the wellbeing of the people or protecting human rights? No, they are to starve them in order to convert them, and it is clear from the most basic study that the Yanquis have no respect for human rights (Gaza is a clear message in this regard, they even sanctioned the International Criminal Court!). They have so much money, they could help South America rather than attacking it, but they don’t care, compassion is contingent on accepting brutal Neo Liberalism.

Their claim is that they are overthrowing a dictator, that they are bringing freedom to the people. Yet they openly say they want access to the oilfields, really it is the “black gold” they want, money is the only thing they are interested in at whatever cost to living human beings. It is not merely that they carry out these acts of aggression and violence against sovereign peoples, but then they steal their wealth and use the proceeds to live in luxury, like vampires they drink the blood of the innocent to bring them the intoxication of power.

They are bullies, flexing their military muscle and sending their vast killing machine to attack those who have no chance of defending themselves. They are crazed, they have a vision of a New World Order and of complete control over human life on this planet which is as utterly deranged as the dreams of the schizophrenic in an asylum, the complete reign of the so-called “Free Market” and the total subjugation of all those who dare to have their own minds and follow their own hearts.

Filthy Imperialist pigs! How dare you invade a sovereign nation!? You claim it is to do with drugs, everyone knows that you are the drug trafficker, that you want humanity addicted and weak. Time and time again you do the same thing, Vietnam, Iraq, Afghanistan, killing and killing without remorse. You so cleverly conceal your agenda that the people see nothing, they even regard you as their friend, think you are helping them by violating them. Do you think perhaps that South America is stupid? Do you think they are as stupid as your narcissistic tyrant president, that they will take this lying down? You cannot win, you can only postpone your inevitable and terrible demise.

There is a great river of blood which your hands have made flow, before long it will drown you. There are screams in the air from your bombs and missiles, you close your ears and pretend they aren't there, but the rage of the people will tear you apart. Your vile castles of contempt and ignorance where you sit in arrogance playing games with the lives of humanity will crumble into the dust they are fashioned from, and you will stand naked before the people, exposed in your ugliness of soul, condemned. Your wickedness will destroy you, your plots and calculations cannot save you from what you are.

This is a sad day for humanity. It is a moment in which aggression has triumphed over diplomacy, due to the megalomaniac fantasies of a pathetic old man. All too clearly it demonstrates to us how we must define ourselves, for the people or for the power, for justice or for the lawless horror of "might makes right". If we do not stand up against this terrible oppression, it might win, and take with it much of what makes life beautiful, leaving only soulless consumerism, a loveless dystopia.

May Venezuela stand strong in the face of this demonic and unjustifiable aggression, including the extrajudicial kidnapping of a leader. Can we imagine what would happen if someone kidnapped Trump or Netanyahu? There is one law for the Yanquis, another for the rest of humanity, just as it has been forever, "one law for the rich, another for the poor". May humanity see the utter hypocrisy of this Imperialist power, its total lack of respect for international law and any standards of basic human decency. We cannot stop what has happened, the Venezuelan people will suffer greatly from the actions of the Great Beast, but we can take it as a call to AWAKEN AND RESIST!
